Rte 18 Update – 1/17/12

- Problems: Route 18 between Union and Elm Sts continues to be dangerous. Signage has been improved but the intersection at the foot of Union St remains a problem, with drivers unfamiliar with the area attempting to head north in the south-bound lane. Be careful!
- Construction Status: Expect to see less activity at the site as construction enters its winter mode. Full activity will resume as weather improves in the early spring. Contractors predict the new roadway – except for the ramp onto the bridge – will be open by summer.
